

Declaration of Conformity

EC – Directive: 2002/95/EG (RoHS)
German Law: ElektroG

With the discharge of the EC directive 2002/95/EG (RoHS) of the 27th January 2003 and the discharge of the German law ElektroG on the 24th March 2005 through the Federal Government of Federal Republic of Germany, may off the 01st July 2006 brought no electro and electronics devices in traffic may be, that the following forbidden cloths contain after §5 ElektroG

Lead	(Pb)
Mercury	(Hg)
Cadmium	(Cd)
Chromium hexavalent	(Cr VI)
polybrominated Biphenyl	(PBB)
polybrominated Diphenylether	(PBDE)

and/or contain at the quantities mentioned in the plant of the EC directive 2002/95/EG.

The conversion of production to the EC directive and law conformity is in the case of PTR Messtechnik GmbH & Co. KG for all products from the line divisions

Terminal Blocks / Multi Connectors Test Probes concluded.

For Terminal Blocks for Din rail, adaptation will have been completed by 01.08.2005.

Werne, June2005

Peter Scherer
General Manager